Profile

An academic and educator specialising in the Arabic language and its teaching, alongside Islamic studies and Qur'anic sciences, with continuous experience since 2011 across Qur'anic centres, schools, and academies. I currently serve as Head of the Arabic Department at Al-Hikmah Kids Academy in the United Kingdom, where I build curriculum plans, standardise learning outcomes, define assessment criteria, and supervise the teaching team. I hold an MA in Usul al-Din and Comparative Religion with distinction from the International Islamic University Malaysia, where I am now reading for a PhD in Philosophy and Comparative Religion. I combine a firm command of Arabic and its grammar with the ability to make linguistic material accessible and rooted in the learner's own context, and I use digital tools to track progress, assess fairly, and measure learning impact.

Education

PhD in Philosophy and Comparative Religion — 2026 — Present

International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM) · Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

- Research track in philosophy and comparative religion, with close attention to textual analysis of sources in their original languages and to comparative method.

MA in Usul al-Din and Comparative Religion — with Distinction — 2023 — 2026

International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM) · Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

- Graduated with distinction, with peer-reviewed output in comparative studies, ethics, and political thought.
- Advanced training in research methodology, academic documentation, textual analysis, and scholarly writing in Arabic and English.

BA in Shari'ah and Law — 2021

National University · Yemen

- A firm grounding in the Islamic legal sciences, their principles, the sources of legislation, and comparative legal study.

Qur'anic Formation — Memorisation and Ijazah

Ijazah in the riwayat of Hafs and Shu'bah from 'Asim · Certificate of full Qur'anic memorisation

- Mastery of transmission and of the rules of Tajweed, in performance and in teaching — a direct foundation for teaching correct Arabic articulation, points of articulation, and letter qualities.

Professional Experience — Arabic Teaching & Academic Leadership

Head of Arabic Department — Boys Section — 2024 — Present

Al-Hikmah Kids Academy · United Kingdom

- Lead the Arabic department for the boys section: curriculum planning, teaching-load allocation, and academic supervision of the teaching team.
- Developed curriculum plans and standardised learning outcomes and assessment rubrics department-wide, so judgements of student performance stay consistent across sections.
- Built performance and attendance tracking reports, and turned assessment analysis into actionable teaching decisions.
- Coordinated termly examinations, moderated marking, and safeguarded the quality of the department's language outcomes.
- Taught grammar (nahw and sarf), reading, and composition, and produced support materials for non-native learners of Arabic.
- Mentored new teachers, observed classroom practice, and improved teaching methods.

Teacher of Arabic, Islamic Studies, and the Qur'an — 2011 — Present

Qur'anic centres, schools, and online programmes

- Taught Arabic across age groups: grammar, reading, orthography, composition, and set texts.
- Taught Arabic for non-native speakers in online cohorts, using a communicative approach that starts from the learner's actual linguistic need.
- Taught memorisation, Tajweed, and the rules of recitation, with care for accurate pronunciation and eloquence.
- Prepared lesson plans and classroom activities, tracking and motivating each student individually.

Director, Qur'anic Education Centre

2019 — 2022

- Full oversight of educational programmes and development of the centre's pedagogical and administrative performance.
- Monitored the educational process, mentored teachers, and evaluated academic and pedagogical performance regularly.
- Organised competitions and periodic assessments, tied to a clear improvement plan.

Student Representative — University Activities

2023 — Present

International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM)

- Organised cultural and educational events and represented students before official bodies inside and outside the university.

Courses and Programmes Taught

Arabic Grammar (Nahw & Sarf) · Reading & Set Texts · Composition & Writing · Orthography (Imla') · Arabic for Non-Native Speakers · Qur'an Understanding · Tajweed & Memorisation Pathways · Islamic Studies for Young Learners · Interactive Assessment Workshops · Public Speaking & Delivery

Curriculum Design & Educational Technology

Al-Hikmah Academy Platform — Arabic Learning Portal

Live

A learning portal for Arabic and Islamic studies serving the Boys Section: lessons, assignments, and level tracking.

- Designed the course architecture, binding each lesson to a defined learning outcome and a matching assessment instrument.
- Automated progress reporting, turning manual tracking and marking into measurable, repeatable processes.

Siyaq Academy — Contextual Learning for Qur'anic Understanding

Ongoing

Learning experiences that link each verse to its setting and its meaning in the learner's life.

- Built teaching units that begin from linguistic and semantic context rather than from bare memorisation.

Interactive Assessment Frameworks

Since 2019

Using tools such as Kahoot and Testmoz for formative assessment.

- Designed item banks and standardised marking criteria, measuring learning impact rather than settling for a final grade.
